Overview

Auburn House and Riverside House are two 30 bed Aged Psychiatry Residential Care Facilities. Prior to admission, all residents are first assessed by the Aged Person's Mental Health Service where they are currently residing to determine need for Aged Psychiatry Residential Services

Auburn House and Riverside House provide interim care and should residents no longer require this level of care in the future residents may be required to move to mainstream aged residential facilities.

Auburn House is located in Hawthorn which is located 6km east of Melbourne's CBD. Auburn House has 30 beds, all are single rooms. 12 of these rooms have ensuite bathrooms. Rooms range in size from 11.1 to 12.7 metres squared. Private ensuites are approximately 4 metres squared.

Riverside House is located in Richmond which is 3kms south-east of Melbourne's CBD. Riverside House has 30 beds, all are single rooms. 12 of these rooms have ensuite bathrooms. Rooms range in size from 11.1 to 12.7 metres squared. Private ensuites are approximately 4 metres squared.

Residents at both Auburn and Riverside House are able to participate in a range of activities including bus outings, arts and craft activities, and cooking. Mass is held monthly and is open to all denominations. Residents also have access to Pastoral Care Services. The homes are visited by a Physiotherapist, Podiatrist, Dietitian, Speech Pathologist, Occupational Therapist and Social Worker.

Residents have their own GP's. You are welcome to organise your own GP or the facility can assist you with a GP who currently visits.

Consultant Psychiatrists visit weekly and review residents routinely.
